

Diploma in

Leadership & Management

Understanding Different Personality Types

Explore various personality types <

Investigate tools to manage personalities <

Discuss the importance of bias management <

Objectives

Personality types in the workplace

Introverts

People who are introverted tend to be inward turning, or focused more on internal thoughts, feelings and moods rather than seeking out external stimulation.

Signs of an introvert

Energy drain

Solitude

Close groups of friends

Reserved

Stimulation

Self-aware

Extroverts

Extroverts are often described as the life of the party. Their outgoing, vibrant nature draws people to them, and they have a hard time turning away the attention. They thrive off the interaction.

Signs of an extrovert

Enjoys social settings

Not a fan of alone time

Thrives around people

Talks

Outgoing

Enjoys risk

Common personalities in the workplace

Rising star

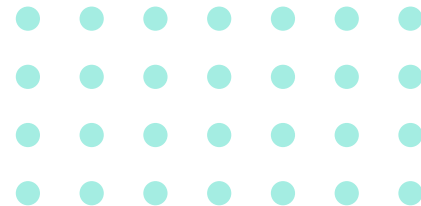

Domain
master

Squeaky
wheel

Steamroller

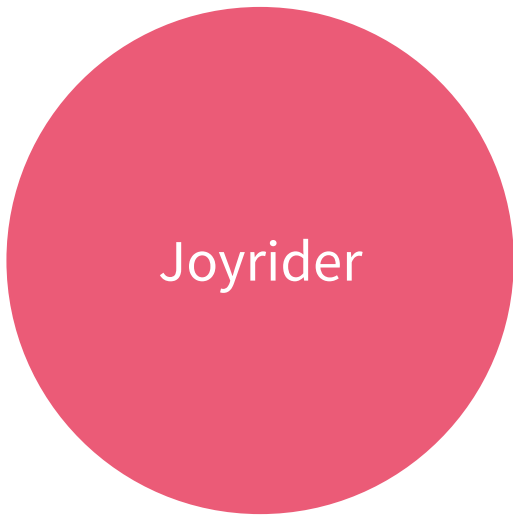

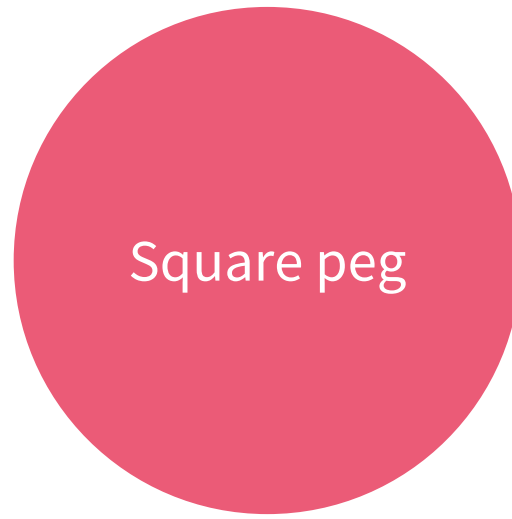

Common personalities in the workplace

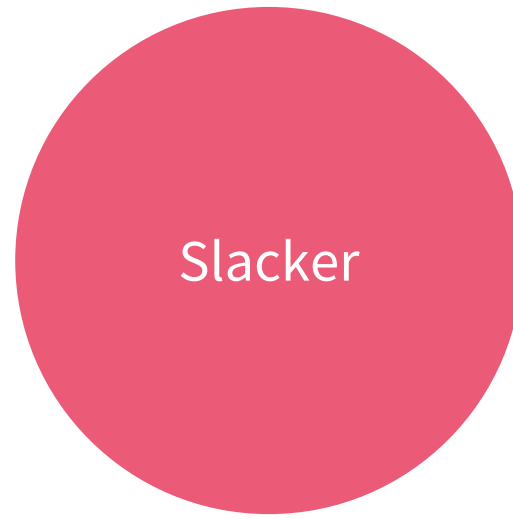

Stowaway

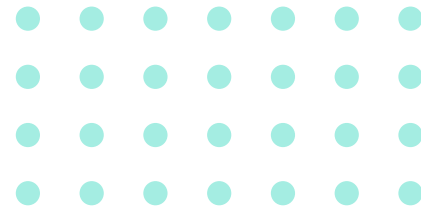

Joyrider

Square peg

Slacker

Manage different personalities

- Understand your bias
- Defuse
- Focus on listening
- Resolve conflict

Manage different personalities

- Emphasise teamwork
- Keep it neutral
- Navigate egos
- Keep gossip positive

Personality tools

Personality assessment tools

Benefits of using personality assessments

- Develop better teams
- Use assessments for better motivating and coaching
- Reduce conflict management
- Increase understanding

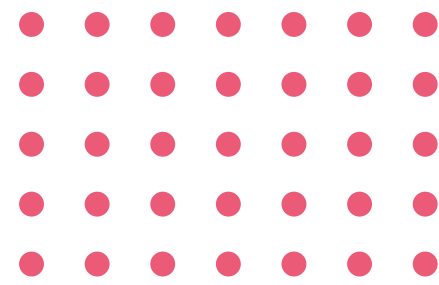

Introverts as managers and leaders

- Good listeners
- Excel at critical thinking
- Detailed orientated
- Tend to be less emotional

Managing introverts

Create an environment for all

Communication

Training

Be fair

Managing introverts: what to avoid

Pushing conformity

Using the limelight as a reward or punishment

Inconsistency

Only focusing on the needs of some

Losing your patience

Extroverts as manager and leaders

- Focus on the people
 - Social
 - Clients
 - Positive
-

Managing extroverts

Create time for problem solving

Idea-sharing is key

Set the level of detail

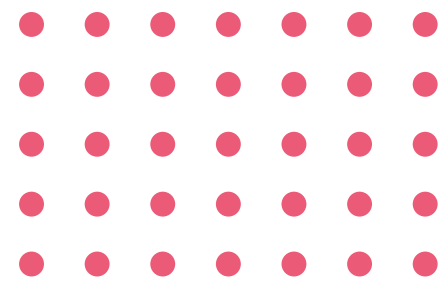

Set boundaries

Guide the ups and downs

Managing extroverts: what to avoid

Solo projects

No reward and recognition

Little interaction

Administration and too much detail

Manage your perception and bias

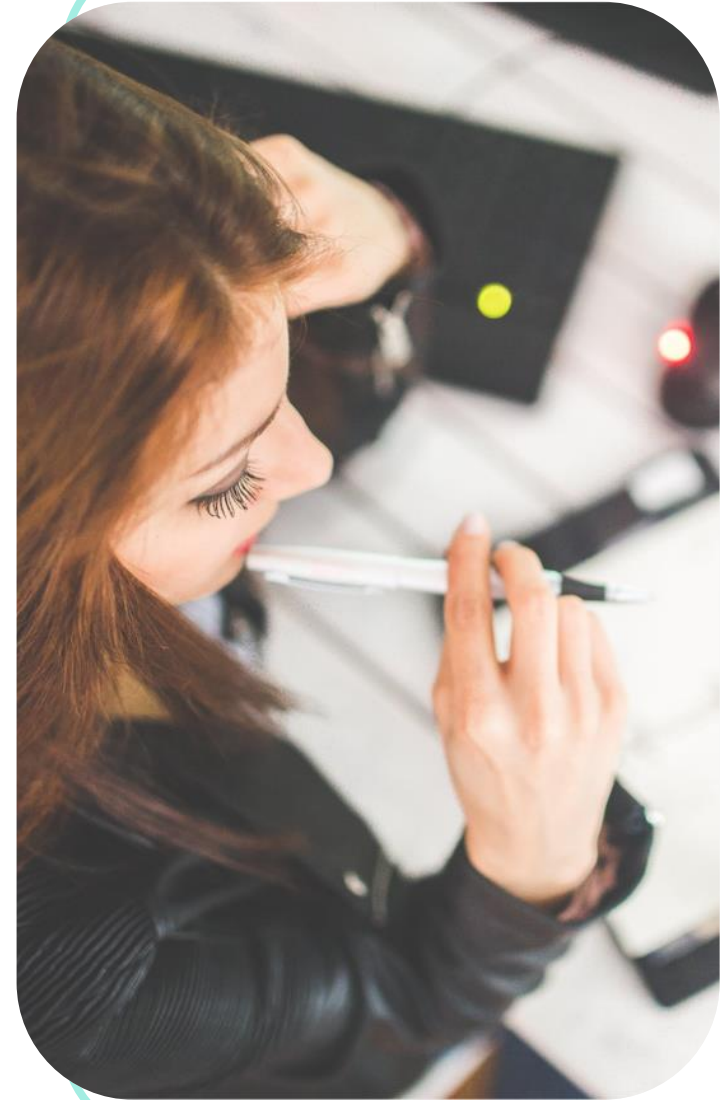

»» Bias explained

Though we should strive to be as fair in judgment as possible, the reality is that we all have biases that affect our judgments.

Recruitment bias

- Beauty bias
- Affinity bias
- Halo effect
- Horn effect

Dangerous biases of managers and leaders

Similarity bias

'I hired you'

'I coached you'

Dangerous biases of managers and leaders

Hard limits

'I used to do that job'

Pressure to deliver

Challenge

- Evaluate your own personality
- Evaluate the personality type of an employee
- Select an assessment tool to use
- Pinpoint your own biases

