

Diploma in

Leadership & Management

Leaders Invest in Learning and Development

Learn how to build a productive culture <

Discuss the importance of investing in growth and development <

Objectives

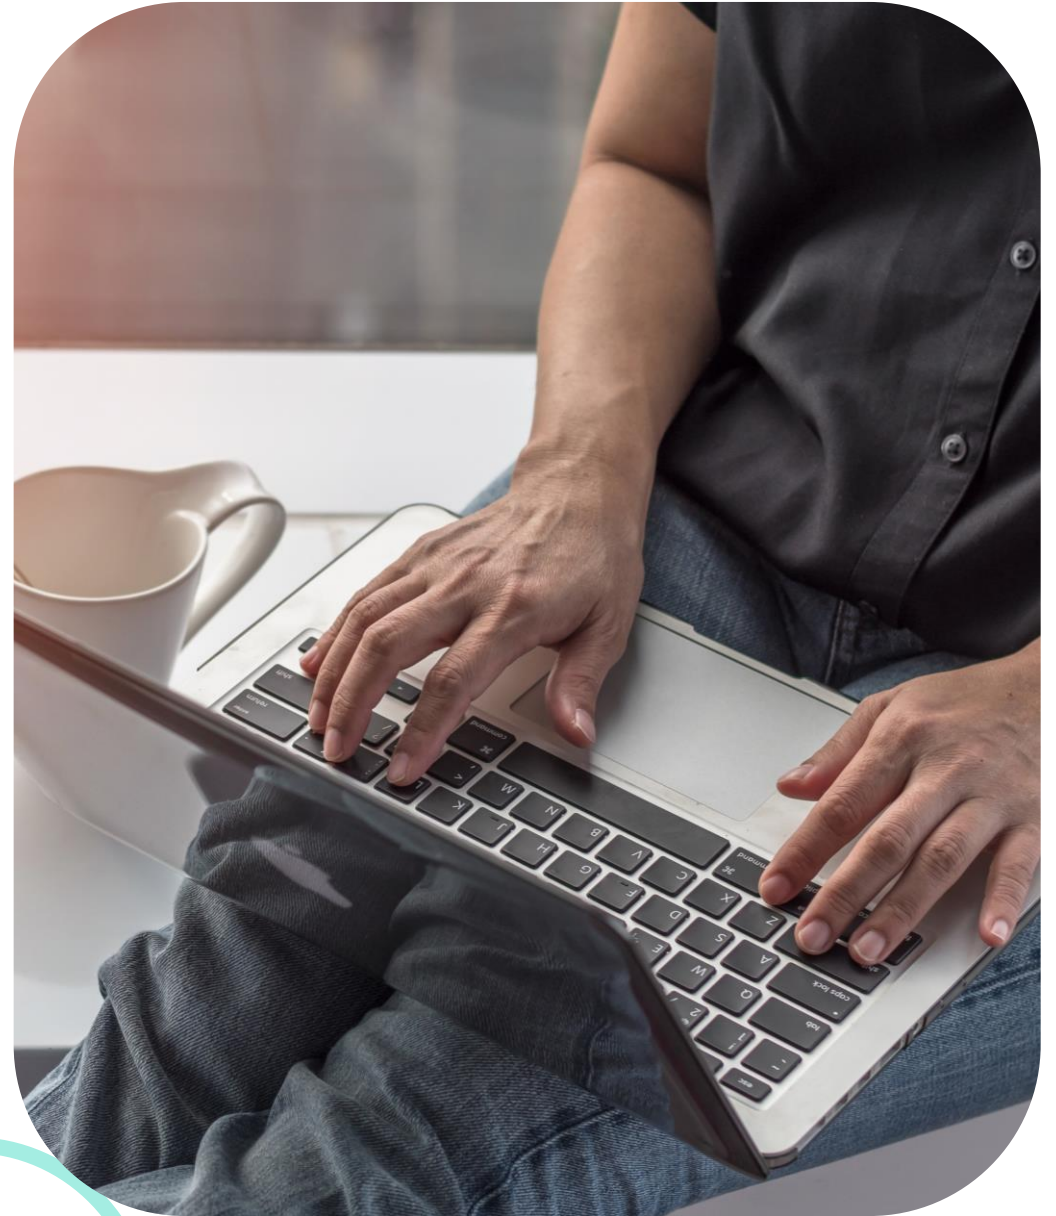

»» Build a productive company culture

An organisation's ability to learn, and translate that learning into action rapidly is the ultimate competitive advantage.

Jack Welch, former General Electric CEO

Principles of adult learning

1. Adults self-direct their learning process.
2. Adults need time for critical reflection when learning new things.
3. Adults need new experiences in order for the learning to 'stick'.
4. Adults need a goal or outcome in order to learn.
5. Adults must learn to learn.

Effective learning styles for adults

➤ Visual

➤ Aural

➤ Print

➤ Tactile

➤ Interactive

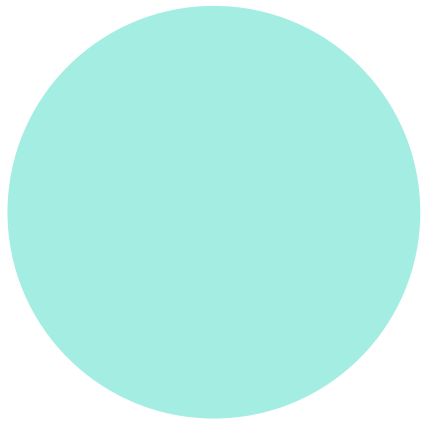

➤ Kinesthetics

What is a high impact learning culture?

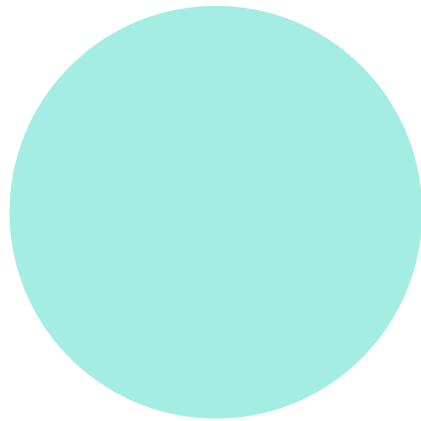

A learning culture is a set of organisational values, conventions, processes, and practices that encourage individuals - and the organisation as a whole - to increase knowledge, competence, and performance.

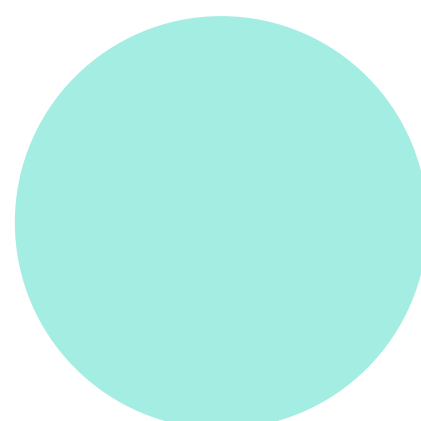

Benefits of a learning culture

➤ Maximise potential

➤ Keep up with technology

➤ Build skills for the future

➤ Create self motivators

How you can create a learning culture

Promote the nature of learning

Understand that learning is the path to mastery

Make
learning accessible

Use blended
learning

Be a coach

Evaluate performance

Understand your current learning culture

Strongly agree	Agree	Neither agree nor disagree	Disagree	Strongly disagree
☐	☐	☐	☐	☐

- Do your employees have a growth mindset?
- Do you currently have a formal learning culture in place?
- Are company leaders promoting learning?
- Does your company have enough learning opportunities?
- Are there opportunities for employees to ask for learning and development?
- How important is learning for your organisation's success?

Learning culture challenges

1

The stakeholders have not bought into building a learning culture.

2

Your learning brand is not credible.

Learning culture challenges

3

Learning is not recognised or rewarded.

4

You do not have the support or resources required to implement your learning culture.

40% of employees with poor training will leave the company within the first year.

(Go2HR)

A whopping 87% of Millennials say that professional development and career growth are significant to them.

(Shiftlearning)

74% of UK workers felt they were not reaching their potential and wished they had received more job training.

(Entrepreneur)

Did you know?

Invest in growth and development

*Without continual growth
and progress, such words
as improvement,
achievement, and success
have no meaning.*

Benjamin Franklin

Training and development

Training and development refer to educational activities within a company created to enhance the knowledge and skills of employees while providing information and instruction on how to better perform specific tasks.

Types of training methods

1

Orientation

2

Lectures

3

Case studies

4

Role playing

Types of training methods

5

Portable-based learning

6

Self-lead learning

7

Team-building exercises

8

Audio-visual training

How to create a learning and development plan

Speak to your staff

Analyse your business goals

Create an employee
develop plan with milestones

Plan for the future

Focus on skills for the entire team

Measure the results

Learning and development mistakes

- Not investing enough
- Initiatives not being employee-led
- Failing to follow up
- Ignoring soft skills
- Having a short-term approach

Companies that offer comprehensive training programs have 118% higher income per employee than companies without formalised training.

The above companies also enjoy a 24% higher profit margin than those who spend less on training.

(ATD)

70% employees indicated that job-related training and development opportunities influenced their decision to stay at their job.

(shiftelearning)

Did you know?

